About This Content

Why not try these classic carriages, built between 1896 and 1898 to the design of John McIntosh - the Locomotive Superintendent of the Caledonian Railway. This was the second generation of 45 foot coaches with higher arc roofs due to a redesign of the gas lamp flues, making them shorter. These carriages were intended to replace earlier non-bogie carriages. As built they were gas lit and stayed this way well into the 20th century. They were common all over the Caledonian system, mainly on branch and suburban trains. There was no provision for passenger emergency braking, but this was thankfully retrospectively fitted in the early 1900's!

After the grouping in 1923 they were gradually repainted into the LMS full panel livery. These coaches lasted in passenger service until the late 1930's when all were withdrawn.

This pack depicts the carriages in their original 'Caledonian Railway' colours.

Very good and well modeled coaches, make a nice change to the GWR and BR Mk1 coaches that come with everything. Only complaint is that the interior views are very glitched. (the only way I can think to describe it is 'it looks like your lying down in a reclining chair, you can see a very glitched view out of the right and another coach interior on the left out of the windows') I would like to see a patch for this.
